Ruby Slippers Theatre in partnership with the Vancouver Fringe Festival, Playwrights Theatre Centre, Playwrights Guild of Canada, and Savage Society proudly present:

ADVANCE THEATRE: New Works by Diverse Women, 2020

A five day five play festival of new works written and directed by diverse female-identifying artists

According to a national study, in the Canadian theatre industry individuals who identify as female account for less than a third of working directors and produced playwrights. And the numbers plummet further when you factor in gender non-conforming, genderqueer, transgender, and non-binary individuals as well as cultural background, age, and physical/mental ability. As a direct response to the gross under representation of diverse female-identifying individuals in the role of playwright and director, and to further diversity in Canadian theatre, the Advance Theatre Festival was born.

Advance Theatre showcases dramatic readings of five new plays written and directed by diverse female-identifying Canadian artists. These dramatic readings will take place over five days during the Vancouver Fringe Festival, in September 2020.

If you are a playwright and your play is chosen to participate in the Advance Theatre Festival, Ruby Slippers Theatre and the Fringe Festival will cover the costs of all rehearsals prior to the day of the reading, your technical rehearsal, promotion, the theatrical venue on Granville Island, and all artists' fees.

If you are a director who wishes to participate, send us your resume and cover letter for consideration.

Playwrights: please send your play synopsis, brief bio, and a maximum ten page script excerpt to diane@rubyslippers.ca by February 15, 2020. One submission per person please. Successful candidates will be notified by May 30, 2020. This is a curated process. Priority will be given to diversity.
